AGF Investments Inc. Selects L&T Infotech Financial Services Technologies as its Primary Provider for Transfer Agency Function

TORONTO, Oct. 11, 2016 /CNW/ - L&T Infotech Financial Services Technologies (LTIFST), a fully-owned subsidiary of L&T Infotech (NSE: LTI), today announced selection by AGF Investments Inc. (TSX: AGF.B) as its technology provider of choice for transfer agency function. AGF will leverage two of LTIFST's SaaS product offerings – Unitrax® and aTAS® to administer its mutual fund platform in Canada.

Chad Alderson, Chief Executive, LTIFST said, "Our flagship product offerings, Unitrax® and aTAS®, have been enabling more than 200+ fund management companies to administer wealth management products globally. This new relationship with AGF, one of Canada's most prestigious financial institutions further strengthens our reputation as one of the world's preeminent technology platforms."

This relationship will provide increased performance, reliability and scalability to AGF and will improve time to market for new product launches.

Chris Jackson, Chief Information Officer & Senior Vice-President of IT & Operations, AGF said, "AGF welcomes this new direct partnership with L&T Infotech and views this transition as an opportunity to enhance the services we provide to our clients. This relationship marks an important milestone in expanding our business in Canada."

LTIFST is a leader of IT Product & Services in Canada working with some of country's largest financial institutions and representing over $650 Bn in AUM. Unitrax® is a SaaS-based proprietary transfer agency record keeping platform that enables fund managers and insurance providers with administration of their Wealth Management Products. Unitrax® supports a wide range of products such as Mutual Funds, GICs, Hedge Funds, Alternative Investments, Institutional Funds, and Offshore and Segregated Funds all under one platform.
