LTIMindtree's Indoor Position-Based Tracking System Integrated with Oracle Fusion

Introduction

Our indoor position-based tracking system, integrated with Oracle Fusion, boosts inventory management accuracy, reducing carrying costs by 28%. By eliminating manual input errors and optimizing inventory management, businesses can expect cost savings in storage, labor, transportation, handling, insurance, taxes, item replacement, shrinkage, and depreciation. Experience the power of our indoor position-based tracking system and take charge of your inventory management.

Business Problem

- The current industry struggles with accurate warehouse inventory tracking, leading to errors and high carrying costs.
- Lack of real-time inventory visibility leads to issues in stock monitoring, replenishment, and order management.
- Some of the other challenges include stockouts, time-consuming manual stocktaking and audits, and inventory threats and shrinkage.
- Conducting manual stocktaking and audits is time-consuming, labor-intensive, and prone to errors, often leading to loss of revenue and a decrease in overall efficiency.

Our Solution

In collaboration with Oracle Fusion, LTIMindtree's indoor position-based tracking system offers a robust solution to minimize inventory carrying costs.

- The system eliminates manual input errors and streamlines inventory management by enhancing warehouse item tracking accuracy.
- Helps businesses significantly reduce storage, labor, transportation, handling, insurance, taxes, item replacement, shrinkage, and depreciation costs.
- Enables real-time inventory tracking, ensuring precise and efficient management while minimizing errors.
- Provides a user-friendly experience for inventory control, eliminates manual input errors, and optimizes management processes with seamless integration with Oracle Fusion.
- Ensures 28% cost reduction in inventory carrying costs through improved efficiency and accuracy.
